

A ONE DAY CONFERENCE

POST/SHARE

THE ART, SCIENCE AND PASSION OF OUR WORK
WEDNESDAY, MAY 11, 2016 8:30 A.M TO 3:30 P.M.
CHAMPLAIN COLLEGE
900 Riverside, St. Lambert, (metro Longueuil)

photo by David Ward

Dr. Varda Mann-Feder
Professor and Graduate Program Director &
Diploma, Applied Human Sciences
Concordia University, Mtl., Que

The Art and Science of Youth Work

Can Child and Youth Care Work be both an art and a science?
How can we combine our passion for relationships with our emerging knowledge base and the latest findings about best practices?
At the same time, how can we care for ourselves and keep the passion alive?
Join us for a stimulating presentation about these ongoing debates in our field and the critical ingredients that can feed a creative, fulfilling and informed career in Youth Work.

PROGRAM SCHEDULE

8:30 Registration

9:00 Welcome address

- Laura Malbogot, Instructor, Champlain College
- Sylvain Ratel, President, AEESQ
- Tony Maciocia, Executive Director, QAE

9:15 Keynote address, Dr. Varda Mann-Feder

10:00 Coffee Break

10:30 Workshops (select one)

MAKING CONNECTIONS: Paving the way for Change

Presented by Marisa Di Meglio, Manager, CIUSSS-West

This interactive workshop will explore and help clarify why humans respond the way they do and why at times, it's difficult to connect with our clients.

The Circle of Courage Model, which is based on 4 Universal needs will be presented with the focus on Brain development and the effects of Trauma to help better appreciate and understand how best to connect with our clients.

12:30 Lunch on site (included with registration)

1:30 Workshops (select one)

"Too Angry to Learn Teaching Pro-social Behavior to Troubled Youth

Presented by Robert Calame, President Wolf Social Competencies Inc. Montreal, Qc.

Rising levels of violence in our homes, schools and communities around the world make the workshop particularly relevant to anyone working with youth and young adults.

This workshop will look at the passion needed and the connections necessary to work with youth using the ART® model.

What Makes Your Heart Sing? Take Charge of Your Wellness

Workshop Leaders: Laura Malbogot & Karen Mowbray

This interactive workshop explores and identifies the multiple issues affecting frontline workers when it comes to maintaining their wellness in the field.

Explore strategies to keep you in the game: sane, healthy and balanced. A coaching model will be implemented so participants develop a personal action plan.

From Chaos to Calm:

Strategies to support struggling students

Presented by Robin Bernstein, ADHD & Academic Coach

Students with ADHD, executive functioning difficulties and learning disabilities often struggle to stay afloat in the classroom. Through hands-on exercises and case studies, this workshop will focus on identifying and developing a better understanding of issues they are facing, and provide implementable strategies that facilitate student self-management and successful outcomes.

Hosted by: Champlain College with the support from:

AEESQ (Association des Édicateurs et des Édicateurices du Québec) and QAE (Quebec Association of Educators)

For more Information: lmalbogot@champlaincollege.qc.ca or tonymaciocia@gmail.com

TO REGISTER:

- On line – Link: www.aeesq.ca
- On-site /day of conference
- By Mail (cheque is payable to AEESQ)
Mail to: Laura Malbogot, RAC Program
900 Riverside
St. Lambert, Quebec J4P 3P2

COST: (includes lunch, coffee breaks and conference materials)

- Regular rate $60.00
- On-site $70.00
- Students $20.00

VISIT OUR WEBSITE AT: www.aeesq.ca or www.qae-eaq.com